Summary

Ever since my childhood, I have been obsessed with technology. I remember learning HTML & CSS when I was 11 years old. Well, now that is not the case. I have come very far in learning and working in technology field. I have mostly worked freelance, and now trying to pave my way in the corporate.

My goal is to use my knowledge and skills for the betterment of humanity. I dream to be in a crucial core part of a big MNC wherein I can use all of my skills and expertise to help the organization grow.

- Quickly learning new skills and programming languages.
- Problem Solving.
- Multitasking.
- So far, I have Java & Kotlin, HTML, CSS, SQL & PostgreSQL, JavaScript, and Python in my arsenal of tools.
- Academic qualifications such as Data Structures and Algorithm, Problem Solving, Operating System, Database Management Systems, Computer Networks, Software Engineering, and Project Management.

I am still enthusiastically grabbing onto any other skills or principles I can integrate into the coding web in my head.

Currently, I am spending my time in building open-source projects and upgrading my self as well promoting in the online world. I am interested in Web Development & Mobile Development related opportunities to kick-start my career in this vast field.
